Small and adventurous: The new Volkswagen cross up! is now available to order

- cross up! thrills with its sporty yet robust character
- New colours and packages available to order for the up!

Wolfsburg, 3 November 2016 – Volkswagen is now taking advance orders for the new cross up! in Europe. Its sporty and rugged appearance features distinctive bumpers, silver anodised roof rails and increased ground clearance.

The new four-door cross up! is perfectly equipped for all weathers. It comes with off-road suspension and a 15 mm higher ground clearance, chrome-trimmed fog lights and cornering lights as standard. The four-door also features 16-inch "kalamata" alloy wheels, "cross" design front and rear bumpers, colour contrasting side mirrors and black side guard trims with the "cross up!" badge. A silver anodised roof rail and high-gloss chrome-plated strips on front and rear make for a sporty overall impression.

The off-road look is also taken up on the inside with standard leather package, colour-coordinated dashpad, seat covers in "cross" design and "orange" ambient lighting. The new cross up! starts from €14,250 and can be ordered as a 1.0l MPI with 55 kW (75 PS)¹ or 1.0l TSI with 66 kW (90 PS)².

Volkswagen has also extended the already wide range of colours and customisation options for the up!. Three new exterior colours are available to order now: savanna gold metallic, blueberry metallic and coral red uni. In addition, new packages can also be ordered: in particular the "roof pack". This includes a roof painted in grey and tinted rear side and rear windows.
